North End Baptist Church is hosting a Parenting Conference February 3rd and 4th for parents interested in raising their children to become self-reliant adults.

The conference features Walker Moore, an internationally known youth culture expert, author, conference speaker and more importantly, a Dad. He has worked with thousands of students all over the world for over thirty years.

As Mr. Moore worked with students, he realized that he was seeing no real growth in their lives. As seniors in high school, nearly all of them were still dealing with the same problems they faced in their early teens. He realized that the students were missing an integral part of life.

With humor and homespun wisdom, Walker shares four sessions built around four essential skills teenagers today lack. Come and learn why your kids don't want to grow up; how to build adult skills and responsibilities into their lives; how to guarantee they'll keep their bedrooms clean; and how to build into them a strong identity that won't crumble under the peer pressure and temptations young people encounter today.

Parents state that the life-changing Rite of Passage Parenting principles help them raise capable, responsible, self-reliant adults-not kids who never grow up.
